

Services and Entertainment Module

If the Truck is equipped with a Service and Entertainment Module you will find a Secondary Information Display close to the steering wheel.

The copyright notices, license terms and legal disclaimers relating to the open source software embedded in the Services and Entertainment Module have been published directly in the Secondary Information Display.

To find the information in the Secondary Information Display, please select Menu and navigate to Settings – About – Legal information – License.